BOULEVARD LIGHTS

From the C. & O. Depot to the L. & N. Depot—General Lighting System Discussed in Council.

An important meeting of the city Council was held last night. The question of street lighting was the subject investigated. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion to have a system of boulevard lights from the C. & O. depot to the L. & N. depot, and a reduction in price to all consumers.

POSTMASTER KEHOE

President Wilson Sent Name of Marcus F. Kehoe in For Confirmation By Senate Yesterday

Big Victory Scored By of Ex-Congressman James N. Kehoe, Who Licked Democratic Opponents to a Frazzle

Postmaster Clarence Mathews of Maysville is to be succeeded by Marcus F. Kehoe as announced several weeks ago.

President Wilson yesterday sent the name of Mr. Kehoe to the Senate for confirmation.

Thus the short but intensely warm contest in the Democratic ranks of Maysville and Mason County over the local postmastership is settled and Mr. Kehoe's regular appointment for four years will be made and he will likely succeed Postmaster Mathews on April 1st next.

Mr. Mathews is a Taft Republican and has the record for service, having held the office for over 16 years. He retires with the satisfaction of having served the people faithfully and has the confidence and esteem of the public, the Democrats as well as that of his own party.

M. F. Kehoe, while never very active in Democratic action and councils, nevertheless, is a man of sterling worth and is a member of the Kehoe family of Maysville, whose sons William F. Kehoe and John Dexter Kehoe, of Washington, D. C., former Congressman James N. Kehoe of Maysville, and Dr. Henry C. Kehoe of Frankfort, have each made eminent successes in life, all starting out to fight life's battle poor, but courageous and manly boys, and they have won their way by worth, merit and pluck.

PROHIBITION DEAD LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS

Tunis Measure Wins—Latter Permits Increase in License Fees For Saloons in Cities From Present Maximum of $500

Frankfort, Ky., March 17.—The Webb State-wide prohibition bill died in the Senate tonight, but the dry people won a victory when the Tunis bill under which it is possible for the cities of Kentucky to lift the present charge for licenses for saloons from $500 to $1,000 or over was passed in the House, having already passed the Senate. That the Governor will sign it seems to be a foregone conclusion.

Representative Matt S. Walton, of Lexington, frankly explained that the purpose of the measure was to reduce the number of saloons in Lexington, which was 129 coffee houses. The vote on the bill was 52 to 22. Interest in the prohibition amendment was intense throughout the day. The dispensary feature of the measure it is believed, caused the greatest opposition to it, outside the forces in the legislature which voted with the liberals on general principles. The greatest excitement prevailed during the taking of the vote on the bill which put it to sleep and there was breathless silence as each member responded to the roll-call.

IT DID, NOW!

Yesterday was St. Patrick's Day, and the next day it snowed.

Hunt's Silk Sale

We are proud of this collection of moderate priced Silks. It is safe to say no town the size of Maysville has ever shown so large an assortment since the vogue of ready-to-wear garments made such inroads on piece goods.

POPLINS plain and figured in two dozen different pieces. 29c to $1.50.

CREPES plain and figured, all Silk, also Silk and Cotton, in more than sixty different pieces. 39c to $1.50.

SATIN-FINISHED SILKS in Charmeuse, Messaline, Foulard and other weaves, can be conservatively estimated in plain and figured patterns at 75 different pieces.

IN ADDITION the Chiffon Taffetas, the Shirting Silks, the Jap Silks, the plain and figured weaves in surah will easily bring our Silk Stock at a minimum estimate to MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED PIECES.

All at moderate prices—beginning at 29c. Nothing higher than $1.50 except Crepes and Cascadeens at $1.98. And it is not the size of the stock that gratifies us so much as its DESIRABILITY in point of style, quality and price.

Butchers Villa and Huerta are beginning to sit up and take notice.

"Why talk of unemployed women when house-work goes begging?" is the question propounded by a New York woman.

She finds two good reasons for the unemployment of domestic servants: First—The unreasonably high wages demanded by even the most incompetent, which makes them impossible for people of moderate means.

Second—Their refusal to go to the country at any price, though plenty of good situations are open to them there.

It should be the business of legislators to make it easy as possible for any one to engage in any commercial undertaking, but that is not the case now, and the situation will be infinitely worse when all of the various proposed "reform" laws are on the statute books.

The interstate trade commission might be directed to answer inquiries of business men in regard to the exact meaning of trust and other legislation, for which there is much greater need than of further legislation of a restrictive character. That, however, might not arouse shouts of approval from the masses, which seems to be the only aim of the Free Trade leaders.

THE HABIT OF THOROUGHNESS.

The world is well peopled with men and women whose success is due to their economy of spare time.

One notices occasionally a newsboy, who, not content to read the headlines on the first page of his paper, scans the inside as well. He is the boy to keep one's eye on, for he appreciates the advantage of knowing a little more than his employment actually requires.

Economy of time is a trait too rare. One wastes hours, days, months in the aggregate, without realizing the wrong he does himself. One might accomplish wonders by utilizing the moments that ordinarily go to waste.

Great books have been conceived in minds momentarily at rest from their usual employment; great thoughts have their birth in these between time pauses. Clerks and mechanics have made successful lawyers and physicians of themselves by utilizing evenings which their companions in office or shop let go to waste.

Keep your eye on the newsboy who reads his paper. He has something better in store for himself. He has learned the value of his own time; has already learned that the way to get something better is to deserve something better.

The ranks of useful citizenship are well sprinkled with former newsboys, and few of them were ever afraid of exerting themselves to a point beyond the mere necessities of their work. A boy on the corner does not call the news from what he reads from the inside pages, but he is nevertheless a better newspaper salesman for knowing what his papers have beyond the first page.

It is the habit of thoroughness that counts, the willingness to do a little more and be a little better than the boss demands. If you see your newsboys perusing his papers, keep your eye on him. Give him a lift if you can, but never doubt he will get along, whether you give him the lift or not. He has it in him.—Ashland Independent.

In a recent discussion in the United States Senate, Mr. Gallinger stated that in the last six years 618,000 Americans emigrated to Canada, but in the same period 594,000 Canadians moved to the United States, leaving Canada the gainer over us of only 23,000, while, during 1913, over 54,000 American-born residents of Canada gave up their residence there and returned to this country. This showing is more favorable to the United States than has previously been claimed by some observers, but it is based upon official Canadian figures.

According to a report issued by the London Board of Trade, supplemented by data supplied by trades unions, organized workers have lost nearly $90,000,000 in wages from stoppages due to trade disputes during the past ten years. To this has to be added a very large amount distributed in strike pay. Against this the net gain in wages resulting from disputes is reported as $13,000,000. In the same period the working classes as a whole have secured advances in wages estimated at $75,000,000. Of every hundred strikes or other disputes recorded in the years under review 50 per cent. were won by the employers, 25 per cent. by the workers, and the other 25 per cent. were compromised.

The Boston Transcript states that a prominent railroad official in analyzing the agricultural possibilities of New England, says that in the ten years prior to 1910 879,499 acres of tillable land in New England ceased to be cultivated. Today New England produces in the way of food probably less than 25 per cent. of what her people consume. This means the importation of 3,600,000 tons of food products into New England in one year, much of which could have been raised here. The 879,450 acres of abandoned tillable land would have fed 800,000 cows, fattened over 350,000 head of beef, and furnished pasture for 2,200,000 sheep, to say nothing of the crops that could have been raised on these lands.

PROHIBITION AND BANKS.

Only one item of the many illustrative of the disastrous effects which State-wide prohibition would have upon Kentucky is that of the injury which it would inflict on the banks. Here is an impressive tabulation of fact and estimate:

Capital stock of national banks of Kentucky $17,890,900.00
Capital stock of State banks and trust companies of Kentucky 20,164,235.00

Total $37,855,135.00

Average dividends of all banks and trust companies, based on estimate of 8 per cent. 3,018,410.80

Amount loaned annually on whisky and to individuals and firms engaged in the liquor business 30,100,000.00

Interest paid annually to Kentucky banks on loans in connection with the liquor business 1,750,000.00

According to this the amount of money received annually by the banks of Kentucky from the whisky industry is equivalent to about 57 per cent. of the dividends on all the bank stock in the State.—Courier-Journal.

WONDER WHAT HE DID?

Stray bits of conversation often sound strangely. The other day the Around the Town Man passed two negroes.

This is the conversation he caught in passing:

"I knocked his brains out," said one.

"Yes," the other broke in. "Then what did he do?"

Just what did he do then "with his brains knocked out," the Around the Town Man wondered as he walked on.

FEDERAL JUDGE'S DAUGHTER COMMITS SUICIDE.

Louisville, Ky., March 16.—Miss Fannie Louise Evans, 38, daughter of United States Judge Walter Evans, plunged to her death from a third-floor window of her apartments, Sunday. She held a crucifix in her hands as she fell. Miss Evans had been in ill health for two years. She worried over the death of her mother.

HIGH LICENSE PLAN

At Lexington Seems To Have Merit and Might Fill The Long Felt Want.

(Lexington Leader.) Last evening Mrs. Francis E. Beauchamp, the skilled leader of the W. O. T. U. told a reporter for The Leader that there would be a local option election in Lexington the last week in September or the first week in October.

Last Wednesday The Leader took the liberty of suggesting that the saloon men might minimize the opposition by requesting the City Commissioners to pass an ordinance now, effective March 1, 1915, prepared along the following lines:

License—Not less than $1,000.

Number of Saloons—Not exceeding sixty.

Location of Saloons—In business districts.

Business Hours—From 7 a. m. to 12 p. m., Sundays and election days excepted.

Restrictions—License to be granted to saloons exclusively, to hotels having twenty or more bed rooms, and to bona fide restaurants, but restaurants with saloons attached to close on Sundays.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

FT. THOMAS TO REMAIN UNOCCUPIED FOR PRESENT.

Washington.—The War Department will not send a regiment to occupy the Ft. Thomas army post during the absence of the Ninth Infantry on the Texas frontier. This was the statement made Friday by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., the Chief of Staff, to Representative A. B. Rouse.

Gen. Wood told the Congressman that the middle division, of which Ft. Thomas is a part, has been stripped of troops and that no regiment is available at this time to be quartered in Kentucky.

CHANCES FOR PROHIBITION

In Kentucky Are Considered By W. C. T. U. To Be Waning.

Lexington.—The fact that the State-wide prohibition bill was not one of those reported by the Senate Rules Committee for special consideration has caused the Kentucky Women's Christian Temperance Union to feel that the chances are now decidedly against getting the bill before the upper house of the General Assembly at this session.

Those members of the house, who are friendly to the liquor interests, last week charged that only the W. C. T. U. was in earnest in its support of the bill, and that all other influences supposed to bear upon it, were really not ready to do it.

Many of the saloon men believe the drys will win, but they are all of the opinion that it will be close. A number of the saloon men are disposed to sign the call for the election and to spend no money in the fight. They say that if the people of Lexington are willing to supplant licensed saloons with bootleggers, to exchange good whisky for blended goods, and to stand a raise in taxes, because of the loss of the licenses, they are willing that they shall do it.

NEWSPAPERS DO NOT INFLUENCE MINDS OF JURORS.

(Grant County News.)

It has been the custom in our courts to disqualify jurors from sitting on a case about which they have read in newspapers.

Judge David H. Harris, of the thirty-fourth Missouri judicial circuit, takes a different view of the matter.

His latest defense of the press, occurred in the case of Mrs. Susan Ross, charged with the murder of her husband, who sought to secure a change of venue, but which Judge Harris overruled. Newspaper articles were offered as evidence to show that they had prejudiced the people of the county so that they could not with fairness serve as jurors.

Judge Harris holds that a man who does not read the newspapers would prove a less capable juror than the one who does.

"It may be safely stated as a general proposition," said Judge Harris, "that the time has come when, if a man doesn't read the newspapers, his qualifications to sit as a juror in any kind of a case is seriously questioned."

"The witnesses were practically agreed that, so far as they could judge, the unfavorable opinions they had heard expressed touching on the guilt of the defendant were based upon newspaper accounts or upon neighborhood rumor and gossip and were not and would not be changed by the evidence. And this brings up the crux of the whole matter. Our law provides that if a juror has formed or expressed an opinion as to the merits of the case he is disqualified, but if such opinion is founded only on newspaper reports or rumors he is not disqualified."

The newspaper articles offered in evidence are absolutely free from unfair, inflammatory or prejudiced statements, nor did any of the newspapers indulge in any editorial comment. The newspapers did nothing more than to print from time to time somewhat detailed and circumstantial but fair and impartial accounts of the various conferences. Every newspaper worthy of the name is expected to do this, and it is expected further that these papers will be read by citizens generally, including possible jurors.

THE QUESTION.

By Berton Bralcy.

What have you done with the old men Who're broken by toil and time? Once they were brave and bold men, Now they are past their prime, Now they are aged and juiceless, Now that their race is run, Now that they're weak and useless, Tell us: What have you done?

Have you made their hard lives rougher By turning them out, in ruth, To shiver and starve and die, In the world that was meant for Youth?

Now that they cannot aid you Nor earn their miner's wage, For all that their work has paid you, How have you dealt with Age?

Once they were young and gay men Toiling to make you wealth, Now they are bent and gray men Broken in strength and health, Have you pensioned these one-time bold men?

Or starved them as some men do? As you have dealt with the Old Men May Destiny deal with you!

THE FARMHOUSE PARLOR.

The farmhouse parlor, known in some localities as the "front room," is about to be abolished in Kansas, according to the Home Decorative Committee of the Kansas State Agricultural College. At least it will be abolished if the efforts of the committee to create a sentiment against it prove availing. It is claimed, and with a good deal of truth, that the farmhouse parlor, with its horsehair sofa, stiff-backed chairs, gaudy chromos and crayons of "Uncle Tom" and "Aunt Mag," is just a bit too depressing to be conducive to a pleasant state of mind.

The members of the committee say that the parlor must be converted into a cheerful living room, instead of a moldy shrine for the autograph album and the sea shells under a glass case.

They insist that the embargo be lifted to the extent of making the parlor accessible on weekdays as well as Sundays, or when the candidate for Assessor drops in to spend the night. A little fresh mud on the carpet, they insist, is better than the dust of ages long gone.

There is genuine merit in this crusade. The farmhouse parlor has been a mausoleum long enough. It ought to be something more than a musty tomb into which the members of the family steal with bated breath every now and then when they essay to entertain the fruit tree agent or affix a signature to a mortgage. The Kansas women have the right idea. It is to be hoped that the crusade may some day extend to certain sections of Kentucky.—Louisville Times.

VALIDITY OF BILLS

To Be Acted Upon Today By Kentucky Assembly May Be Questioned.

If the antipass bill, the Finn bill extending the power of the State Railroad Commission, or any other measure affecting the railroads, is left over for passage by the General Assembly today, the question of its constitutionality is apt to be raised in the Courts.

The constitution, Section 12, provides "nor shall a session of the General Assembly continue beyond sixty legislative days, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays."

WHEN YOU'RE SICK YOUR WAGES STOP

You know what that means—misery—worry—big bills—debt!

You know you can't afford to get sick. Keeping in good health means food and clothing for you and your family. It is up to you to take care of yourself. It is up to you, whenever you don't feel right, to take something to make you right, to strengthen you, build you up, ward off worse sickness—protect you and your family. That thing we have in Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. In offering it to you, we protect you against money-risk, by personally promising you that, if it does not restore your health, we will give back your money without word or question. We believe it is the best builder of health, energy and strength you can get. It is helping many of your neighbors. If it doesn't help you, we will give back your money.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is composed principally of pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites. Each has long been endorsed by successful physicians. Here they are for the first time combined. The result is a remarkable nerve, blood and strength-building remedy that is both food and medicine. For all who are nervous, run-down and debilitated—no matter what the cause; for old people; for convalescents; for puny children, we know of nothing that will give health and strength as quickly as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a real builder of good blood, strong muscles, good digestion. Pleasant to take, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. If you don't feel well, economize both money and strength by beginning today to take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. Sold only at the Rexall Stores, and in this town by us. $1.00—Chenoweth Drug Co., corner Second and Sutton streets, Maysville.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Continue at Third Street Methodist Church With Unabated Interest.

On Monday evening Rev. Dr. Bunton preached upon the theme, "The Tragedy of the Fall," text, Matt. 7:27—"And it fell, and great was the fall of it." In part the speaker said, "Great principles, like philosophy and science never have any dates attached to them. Christ understood the relation of things to events, the aliveness of cause to events. In the closing of his Sermon on the Mount, he intimated that the Jewish Religion was incapable of withstanding the stress which the future would bring upon religions. Therefore the parable of this chapter. The Jewish house was well and good so long as there was no storm on hand. Foundations were to determine the strength of the structure. No building is stronger than its foundation. No religion is better than its foundation principles; therefore shall it be 'Christ or another?' Worldliness is well enough when the tide is out and the sea is clear. But when the tide runs in and the sands slip into the sea, the house without foundations slips into the sea and therein is the tragedy. The fall of human enterprises, Worldliness and Christless religions cannot stand the strain of today's tests. Rain tests the roof, floods try the foundations, and winds test the fiber of the structure.

The structure of building of life is our property for eternity. Only what we build here is what we will have yonder. Many a poor unsuspecting soul will be housed in eternity. When the flood comes it will be too late to charge houses or build another. But there is furnished a sure foundation, a Rock, it is Christ Jesus, the Lord. "And other foundation can no man lay than is laid." All else save the Christ is sand that will let the life fall wrecked in the sea of death and eternal ruin. If there is any distance between you and Christ you are on sand and in deadly danger. Profession, performance, privileges, substitutes can not be passed off for piety.

A storm is coming which shall try our houses. The soul of man is storm-swept; no sea has ever been scourged with storm, tidal-wave or cyclone with greater fury and wreck than has been the soul of man shaken by the storm of sin and shame and remorse. In the storm of judgment the motives will be exposed, the foundations revealed.

God charges high for his materials furnished for character. He expects 100 per cent returns, he expects the talents to double with your use of them. There is no moral qualities about materials which hands may handle, but there are moral qualities in those whose hands use materials. God's goods come high.

The house fails us in the crisis of life. It falls when there is no time left to build another. When one house burns in a community the whole populace assembles in rebuilding, but if every house burns at once there is a scourge, a crisis. One crop fails the community can help the poor fellow out, but if every crop in the country fails there is a famine, and a crisis is on. Therefore the warning is reasonable, for when my house on sand falls every other one like it tumbles also. Get ready against tomorrow as the meaning of the parable. Christ uses an extreme case. "Man building on sand," a wise man would not do that! So comment on the life of a man when Christ said, "Thou fool!" He was not a fool for raising more crops and building bigger barns but for saying, "Soul thou hast much goods eat and be merry," man's soul can't live on barn-yard products.

If the future depends upon my foundation of Christian faith, then let me guess at other things, but let me be certain about all things spiritual. Let me invest dollars and lose; let me run races and fail in winning; let me fall short in all other pursuits save that of Christian faith and profession! Let me be certain about the foundations upon which my tomorrows depend. Let me be unafraid of that great storm which is to wreck matter, ruin worlds, blot out suns, melt planets, shake the dead from their graves and draw nations to a final day of reckoning! Better a rude hut on the rock with salvation at the end of the race, than a mansion on the sand of a Christless religion and infinite and eternal ruin and wreck at the end of life. Make the hut into a transformed mansion of life, rather than let the palace on the sand be your grave of eternal woe and ruin. Give Christ a chance at your heart!

Revival continues at Third Street M. E. Church. Revival services this evening at 7:30 with sermon by Dr. Bunton. Inspiring music by the chorus choir. Dr. Bunton and Miss Fiat will sing a duet, "He Was Nailed to the Cross."

A large Monday night's crowd was out last evening. Dr. Bunton's sermon was a strong appeal to those out of Christ and the church. The interest and attention to the sermons and exhortations is splendid. The meetings are doing well.

Ex-Governor Beckham Kentucky's Ablest Democrat Tears The Hide Off His Opponent.

Elizabethtown, Ky., March 16.—Ex-Gov. J. C. B. Beckham formally opened his campaign here today for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

This is county court day in Elizabethtown and a large crowd heard Mr. Beckham, who was introduced by Mr. Harry Sommers, editor of the Elizabethtown News and an ardent Beckham man. Mr. Beckham had a big reception at the Showers Hotel before the speaking began. Many Democrats were present from distant and nearby counties.

The feature of Mr. Beckham's speech this afternoon was his terrible attack on Representative Stanley in reply to Mr. Stanley's criticism of the ex-Governor. "There has never been a time in county, State or nation," said Mr. Beckham, "that Mr. Stanley has not taken sides with the saloon interests against the cause of temperance."

Farmers

Have you ever tried our way of borrowing money to pay for a farm?

You, of course, know that most farms are sold for one-third cash and the balance of the payment is represented by lien notes due in one and two years. You also know that there are times when it is impossible to pay these notes when they become due.

Our specialty is lending money on good farms for LONG PERIODS. Wouldn't you rather have five years to pay the balance than two years?

Any one expecting to buy farms this March will do well to come in and consult us about getting the money.

We have been giving satisfactory service for 24 years.

ELECTRIC SIGNS!

The distinguishing air of quality which a first-class Electric Sign gives to a store is the element which gives a sign its greatest value as an advertising medium and investment. The impression it makes is good. It blazes forth to the public that there is business enterprise, merchandise and methods up-to-date. It affects the entire atmosphere of the business district. The stranger says, "It is a live town," and publishes it abroad.

It is the Sign of the Times.
